
NVON Speakers, Lou Haveman and Natalie Lambert Father and Daughter crusade for clean drinking water worldwide

During Tuesday night's dinner, Lou Haveman and daughter Natalie Lambert from Grand Rapids, Michigan will share how Business Connect World and Connect For Water are addressing the needs for clean drinking water in the world and more importantly, how NVON is being a resource and making a difference to those in need.

We first met Lou Haveman, a lifetime veteran of international ministry and business and his wife Jan at the 2015 NVON Conference in Martinsburg, West Virginia during the last year of the first 3-year Project in Common, Water Around The World. At that time his company began helping us locate areas to supply water filters to those through Business Connect World his global humanitarian business, Creating Hope Through Business.

Business Connect World's mission is to provide citizens living in the global south with affordable and easy access to clean water, through the creation of a sustainable, local business mode.

Their purpose is to give hope to the impoverished by creating employment, in the marketing of life enhancing products, within a business model that is sustainable and environmentally balanced. Our values define who we are: Employment, Faith, Profit, and Transparency. Our team members come from various business backgrounds and we embrace business with enthusiasm and an entrepreneurial spirit. Our lives reflect decades of service, both locally and internationally. We seek a greater network, more encompassing, more resources, increasing impact. And we are so grateful that NVON is helping with this purpose through the Water Around The World project.

We will toast the success of our seven-year project.
